NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

SYRACUSE gin mills are expecting a rich harvest. Of course a great deal of whisky will be drunk at the Whisky Party's convention.

Gov. HILL and Chairman Edward Murphy no longer speak to each other as they pass by. The fact is creditable to Hill. Ditto to Murphy. Each seems to be improving in self-respect.

SHERIFF FLACK is to hang five woman murderers next Friday. The divorce suit commenced yesterday will serve to remind him with painful vividness on that occasion that his own wife is still very much alive.

A GLACIER has been discovered in Latah county, Idaho, 2,000 feet above the sea level. It was found by following up a cold current of air that proceeded from a moss bed, and was brought to light by the removal of the moss and a few boulders. It is believed that the supply of ice is unlimited, and the discoverer proposes to work it for the market.

The Argentine Republic has invited the government at Washington to attend its national cattle show at Buenos Ayres. It will open April 20 and close May 11th. This is the season on the other side of the equator when the farmers finish gathering in their crops and get ready for cold weather. If any of our delegates should conclude to spend the winter in the Argentine country they will be absent all summer.

The Nagle-Terry tragedy is still hotly discussed in Stockton, and the District Attorney of San Joaquin county threatens Nagle and Field with another arrest. On the other side the District Attorney is himself threatened with arrest and imprisonment by the federal authorities if he attempts this, for interfering with a Justice of the United States Supreme Court in the discharge of his duties. Terry's friends in Stockton are noisy but not numerous. A very large majority of the people agree with the rest of the United States that Nagle served him right.

The opinion of the Rochester Herald corresponds with that of THE FREEMAN, that Gov. Hill did not do his duty in the Sullivan matter. The article which we quote elsewhere is in response to a call upon the Governor by the Democratic Rochester Union to remove the Republican Sheriff of Allegany county from office. In this article the allegation that the Governor did not consent to the extradition of Sullivan till he had been assured that the briber would be let off with a small fine is sustained by the authority of ex-Congressman Collins of Boston, who came to Albany to look after Sullivan's interest. Every fresh revelation concerning this case places the Governor in a more disgraceful light.

Mrs. FLACK has commenced proceedings against the husband lately restored to her for an absolute divorce. This course is taken to prevent Flack from lawfully marrying the Mrs. Raymond who presides over his duplicate household. A new disclosure is the fact that Lawyer Wright, whose story that he was deceived into representing Mrs. Flack as counsel has received a good deal of credence, did not receive his commission from Judge Monell as counsel till July, just before the decree of divorce was granted by Judge Bookstaver. It was then written and dated back to April 23d. This relegates Wright to the ranks of the conspirators. It is proper to re-state the fact in this connection that Gov. Hill has not yet removed Flack from office.

NEITHER Buffalo nor Saratoga made any effort to secure the Democratic state convention. It goes to Syracuse by unanimous consent—a city in which the Republican party is solid. Even the Democratic Buffalo Courier, which went because the Republican convention did not come to its city, and expressed fears that Republican voters would resent the slight, does not utter a whisper of disappointment over the action of yesterday. This is because it has had experience with both sorts of conventions. It has discovered that while a Republican convention makes votes for the party in the city where it is held, a Democratic convention weakens its own party by disgusting the people. This is why the convention is sent this year where there are no Democratic votes to lose.

MAYOR WHEELWRIGHT of Tacoma, W. T., is overwhelmed with letters from young women in answer to his recent announcement in a Boston paper that several thousand likely young men of his city wanted wives. Among the letters that he has given to the public are well written ones from Eva Rivers and Elizabeth Green of Cleveland and Mary E. Wadsworth and May A. Longman of Syracuse. A widow of 40 who refuses to give her name, writes from Coitton, Ill., offering both herself and her sixteen year old daughter. It turns out that the letter in the Boston paper was a hoax, for the Mayor disclaims responsibility. But his giving away the letters he received is none the less a mean betrayal of blushing confidence, and we hope to hear of his defeat at the next election.

The Democratic State Committee, by order of Gov. Hill, has put its state convention a week behind that of the Republican party. This is rank cowardice in a party that has the inside track, and is also a violation of established rules of inter-party courtesy. Last year when the Democratic National Committee met to call the national convention several days after the Republican committee had done its work, it seemed to take this paltry and cowardly advantage, and put its convention a month ahead of the Republican one. Mr. Cleveland would not consent to the other course, though timid Democrats favored it. Fortunately the present doge bestows no advantage. The call for the state convention, dictated by the Governor himself, defines the position of the party and constitutes its platform. Gov. Hill once declared that he did not wish to go down to history as the Whisky Governor of New York. For the time being, however, he waives his objection, and flings out the Whisky flag for his party to follow. The people of New York do not need to wait till October 1st to discover where the Democratic party stands.

OIL EXPLOSION TO-DAY.

One Man Killed and Others Injured at Allegheny City.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

ELMHURST, N. Y., Aug. 21.—A bad wreck occurred on the Erie at Big Flats last night. A Lehigh Valley freight train was backing down on a switch across a west-bound track, when an Erie freight train plunged into it, demolishing the engine and several cars. An east-bound freight was immediately blocked and the flagman of that train immediately sent back to stop Erie passenger train No. 2. The flagman failed to obey orders and the passenger train ran into the rear of the freight. The engine, baggage and express cars of the passenger and the baggage and two cars of the freight train were burned. Engineer Andrew Wallace and Fireman Charles Kimball, of Train 2, were badly scalded. A driver named Sutton, from Woodhull, and several passengers were slightly injured. The track was blocked for some hours, all passenger trains being transferred over the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road between Corning and this City.

EXPLOSION IN AN OIL REFINERY.

One Man Supposed to Have Perished—The Damage Amounts to $225,000.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 21.—At 3 o'clock this morning a sudden and brilliant glare spread over the lower section of Allegheny City and Pittsburgh. It was followed by a dull, heavy boom. For a moment darkness once more covered the sky, and then flame and smoke shot up in vast volumes from the Allegheny side of the Ohio River. Lieutenant Holmes, of the Allegheny police, realizing that a great explosion had occurred, sounded an alarm, hurried to the scene and found that the large oil refinery of A. D. Miller was doomed to destruction. Perry Henck, the night watchman of the refinery, was discovered lying in a dazed condition on Washington-avenue. He was taken to a drug store, and his injuries were attended to. Henck ran off nothing of the explosion. Thornton Miller, engineer of the establishment, is missing, and is doubtless perished. The refinery was destroyed by a gas leak. The explosion was caused by a gas leak, which was the cause of the explosion, the flames spread in all directions. The tank of white oil was the first to ignite, but was followed by a large receptacle of the ordinary kerosene. The explosion was at once. Near the corner of Preble-avenue and Adams street stood a cooper shop, a long brick building, stored with empty barrels, and with rows of them standing on the roof. The latter were soon on fire, and it seemed to be but a question of a few minutes when these houses would be destroyed. Within 15 minutes the entire square, except a narrow strip along Preble-avenue, was one mass of flames. The roofs of the neighboring houses were smoking, and the occupants, many of them half-clad, were standing around half stupefied with the fear that their homes were to be destroyed. In a short time nearly all of the residents of lower Allegheny were on the scene. A stampede was created among them, however, by the announcement that in the building at the corner of Washington and Preble-avenues, which was on the verge of the fire, was stored 1,900 barrels of benzine. Fireman Mulvihill, of the Eureka Engine Company, had his foot crushed and was taken home. At 5:30 o'clock the fire was under control, so far as confining the flames within their original limits was concerned, but the fire was still burning at 9 o'clock this morning. The destruction of the refinery is practically total. The plant was valued at $225,000. The insurance, if any, is slight.

BUFFALO, Aug. 21.—The second day's session of the American Society of Florists opened at 9:30 this morning. When President May called "Order," he announced that the first business on the program was to select a place to hold the Convention for 1890. Secretary William J. Stewart, on behalf of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, tendered the convention an invitation to hold the meeting at Boston. "Elevating Our Business" was the subject of a very interesting essay, by Robert Craig, of Philadelphia. The speaker maintained that the man who reached the highest success was the specialist, as he could devote more time and attention to that branch of horticulture which pleased his fancy best.

Philadelphia's Drinking Water.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—The Record says: "Mayor Fidler is a firm believer in the healthfulness of Schuylkill water, and has sent samples of the water to Germany for analysis by the most noted scientists there. He further proposes that a novel experiment shall be made with the water, and that the first business on the program was to select a place to hold the Convention for 1890. Secretary William J. Stewart, on behalf of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, tendered the convention an invitation to hold the meeting at Boston. Queer Freaks of the Lightning.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

DENVER, Tex., Aug. 21.—J. C. Abernethy, residing east of Denison, had a thrilling experience Monday night during a severe storm. "I had just returned from the funeral of a little child," he says, "when the storm came up. The rain came down in torrents, and the lightning was appalling. There were three cedar trees in the front yard near the house. The largest one was struck by lightning, when a ball of fire seemed to dance before the window. The lightning went from the tree to the top of the house, and then to the chimney. It then descended to the ceiling in the front room and tore the clock into pieces. Standing near the clock was a sewing machine. The lightning melted the large wheel and the fluid went through the floor, burning a large hole. Mrs. Sherill, who was sitting in another room, was protected by the shock. It was all done in a second."

Order Restored at Richmond, Texas.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

RICHMOND, Tex., Aug. 21.—The two opposing political factions here having agreed upon Ira Aiken, of the State Rangers, for sheriff, the County Commissioners yesterday elected him to that office. The Houston Light Guards has been relieved by the State Rangers and gone home. The Governor also has left. The new Sheriff has taken charge of the Gibson boys, and will hold a preliminary trial this week. They are charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The people now have confidence in the administration being able to keep order.

A Strange Coincidence in Cazenovia.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

SWITZERLAND, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Lewis Murch, a brakeman on the Clinton, Cortland & Northern received fatal injuries by the cars at Cazenovia, Madison County, last night and died at 3:30 this morning. Charles Caswell, a neighbor, stayed with Murch until he died. His wife died in bed. Mrs. Caswell having died from heart disease. She had not heard of Murch's death, so that it was not due to excitement attendant upon the accident.

Governor Lowry has 11 children, nine of whom are now married. One of his daughters and two of his boys eloped.

Russell's Speech "Insulting to France."

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—La Lanterne, in an article inspired by M. Yves Guyot, Minister of Public Works, refers to Colonel Russell's speech at the recent Mars La Tour banquet in Berlin, and says: "It matters not to us whether Lord Salisbury makes England Bismarck's vassal or not, but it is intolerable that he should allow those representing his policy to insult a friendly nation."

Concerning a Defalcation.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—"I do not believe that the members of the Order of Tontine will have to bear the loss of $30,000, which has been charged by the Treasurer George W. Wright." This is the view expressed by Alexander White, Past President of the Southwestern Lodge. "Much has been said," continued Mr. White, "about the possibility of the surety companies to honor the ordinary demands of the society against Wright's probable defalcation when he was made Treasurer of Tontine. I may say that we have been assured of prompt payment when the proper time arrives to make it, which is 90 days from the time when they were notified of the defalcation."

President Harrison's Western Trip.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—The careful and elaborate preparations for the reception of President Harrison were based on his arrival at 7:30 A. M. They were all disturbed, however, by the delay of the train, which was two and a half hours late. The National flag was displayed all over that portion of the city where the party was expected to pass, as well as from numerous residences and business houses in other parts of the City. The weather is warm but clear and the program modified to suit the shortening of time will be carried out. Later on the President arrived. He was given a magnificent reception.

For Alleged Blackmail.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—The jury in the United States District Court yesterday declared Mrs. Belle Hancock to be guilty of using the mails in an attempt to carry out a scheme of blackmail, and Judge Butler sentenced her to pay a fine of $25 and the costs. Mrs. Hancock was to send to send threatening letters to various people demanding money. She used the name of John Cohen in her letters, and received her replies at the general delivery window in the Post Office, where she was arrested.

Washington Jottings.

Lock Haven and Corry, Pa., will be made free delivery Post Offices on October 1. William Watkins, Jr., of New-Jersey, was appointed a Post Office Inspector.

The receipts from internal revenue yesterday were $149,891, and from customs $516,020.

The President has appointed Henry C. Boyer Postmaster at Shenandoah, Pa. John C. Selzer, removed, and the Postmaster General has appointed Philip Goettle as Postmaster at Castle Shannon, Pa.

A new disclosure is the fact that Lawyer Wright, whose story that he was deceived into representing Mrs. Flack as counsel has received a good deal of credence, did not receive his commission from Judge Monell as counsel till July, just before the decree of divorce was granted by Judge Bookstaver. It was then written and dated back to April 23d. This relates Wright to the ranks of the conspirators. It is proper to re-state the fact in this connection that Gov. Hill has not yet removed Flack from office.

NEITHER Buffalo nor Saratoga made any effort to secure the Democratic state convention. It goes to Syracuse by unanimous consent—a city in which the Republican party is solid. Even the Democratic Buffalo Courier, which went because the Republican convention did not come to its city, and expressed fears that Republican voters would resent the flight, does not utter a whisper of disappointment over the action of yesterday. This is because it has had experience with both sorts of conventions. It has discovered that while a Republican convention makes votes for the party in the city where it is held, a Democratic convention weakens its own party by disgusting the people. This is why the convention is sent this year where there are no Democratic votes to lose.

MAYOR WHEELWRIGHT of Tacoma, W. T., is overwhelmed with letters from young women in answer to his recent announcement in a Boston paper that several thousand likely young men of his city wanted wives. Among the letters that he has given to the public are well written ones from Eva Rivers and Elizabeth Green of Cleveland and Mary E. Wadsworth and May A. Lougerson of Syracuse. A widow of 40 who refuses to give her name, writes from Colton, Ill., offering both herself and her sixteen year old daughter. It turns out that the letter in the Boston paper was a hoax, for which the Mayor disclaims responsibility. But his giving away the letters he received is none the less a mean betrayal of blushing confidence, and we hope to hear of his defeat at the next election.

THE Democratic State Committee, by order of Gov. Hill, has put its state convention a week behind that of the Republican party. This is rank cowardice in a party that has the inside track, and is also a violation of established rules of inter-party courtesy. Last year when the Democratic National Committee met to call the national convention several days after the Republican committee had done its work, it seemed to take this paltry and cowardly advantage, and put its convention a month ahead of the Republican one. Mr. Cleveland would not consent to the other course, though timid Democrats favored it. Fortunately the present dodge bestows no advantage. The call for the state convention, dictated by the Governor himself, defines the position of the party and constitutes its platform. Gov. Hill once declared that he did not wish to go down to history as the Whisky Governor of New York. For the time being, however, he waives his objection, and flings out the Whisky flag for his party to follow. The people of New York do not need to wait till October 1st to discover where the Democratic party stands.

EXPLOSION IN AN OIL REFINERY.

One Man Supposed to Have Perished—The Damage Amounts to $225,000.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 21.—At 3 o'clock this morning a sudden and brilliant glare spread over the lower section of Allegheny City and Pittsburgh. It was followed by a dull, heavy boom. For a moment darkness once more covered the sky, and then flame and smoke shot up in vast volumes from the Allegheny side of the Ohio River. Lieutenant Holmes of the Allegheny police, realizing that a great explosion had occurred, sounded an alarm, hurried to the scene and found that the large oil refinery of A. D. Miller was doomed to destruction. Perry Henck, the night watchman of the refinery, was discovered lying in a dazed condition on Washington-avenue. He was taken to a drug store, and his injuries were attended to. Henck can tell nothing of the explosion. Thornton Miller, engineer of the establishment, is missing, and doubtless perished. The devouring element swept all before it. Starting from the gasoline still, which was the cause of the explosion, the flames spread in all directions. The tank of water white oil was the first to ignite, but was soon followed by a large receptacle of the ordinary brand and 25,000 barrels were ablaze at once. Near the corner of Probation-avenue and Adams street stood a cooper shop, a long brick building, stored with empty barrels, and with rows of them standing on the outside. The latter were soon on fire, and it seemed to be but a question of a few minutes when the whole inside must follow. Within 15 minutes the entire square, except a narrow strip along Prebel avenue, was one mass of flames. The roofs of the neighboring houses were smoking, and the occupants, many of them half-clad, were standing around half stupefied with the fear that the flames were to be spread. In a short time nearly all the residents of lower Allegheny were on the scene. A stampede was created among them, however, by the announcement that in the building at the corner of Washington and Prebel avenues, which was on the verge of the fire, were stored 1,000 barrels of benzene. Fireman Mulvill, of the Eureka Engine Company, had his foot crushed and was taken home. At 5:30 o'clock the fire was under control, so far as confining the flames within their original limits was concerned, but the fire was still burning at 9 o'clock this morning. The destruction of the refinery is practically total. The plant was valued at $225,000. The insurance, if any, is light.

BUFFALO, Aug. 21.—The second day's session of the American Society of Florists opened at 9:30 o'clock this morning. The President May called "Order," he announced that the first business on the programme was to select a place to hold the Convention for 1890. Secretary William J. Stewart, on behalf of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, tendered the Convention an invitation to hold the meeting at Boston. "Elevating Our Business" was the subject of a very interesting essay, by Robert Craig, of Philadelphia. The speaker maintained that the man who reached the highest success was the specialist, as he could devote more time and attention to that branch of horticulture which pleased his fancy best.

Philadelphia's Drinking Water.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—The Record says: "Mayor Filtz is a firm believer in the healthfulness of Schuylkill water, and has sent samples of the water to Germany for analysis by the most noted scientists there. He further proposes that a novel experiment shall be made with the disease germs which are said to abound in Schuylkill water. If these germs are deadly the Mayor believes that they will affect the health of animals, and he has directed the German Professors to inoculate rabbits and such other animals as they deem proper with the Schuylkill water germs, and report the result to him."

Furious Cyclone in Maine.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

WINTHROP, Me., Aug. 21.—A cyclone of 30 minutes' duration passed over Wintthrop yesterday morning. The sky was obscured by dense black clouds, which hung very low. Rain fell in torrents, and the wind blew a gale, accompanied by very heavy thunder. Corn and other crops were seriously injured, barrels of apples were blown from trees, and numbers of trees were prostrated. Much of the kind has been experienced here before within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

BAD WRECK ON THE ERIE RAILROAD.

Engineer and Fireman Scalded—A Drover and Several Passengers Injured.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

ELMHURST, N. Y., Aug. 21.—A bad wreck occurred on the Erie at Big Flats last night. A Lehigh Valley freight train was backing down on a switch across a west-bound train, when an Erie freight train plunged into it, demolishing the engine and several cars. A caboose bound freight was immediately flagged and the flagman of that train immediately sent back to stop Erie passenger train No. 2. The flagman failed to obey orders and the passenger train ran into the rear of the freight. The engine, baggage and express cars of the passenger train and the caboose and two cars of the freight train were burned. Engineer Andrew Wallace and Fireman Charles Kimball, of Train 2, were badly scalded. A drover named Sutton, from Woodhull, and several passengers were slightly injured. The track was blocked for some hours, all passenger trains being transferred over the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road between Corning and this City.

Queer Freaks of the Lightning.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

DENVER, Tex., Aug. 21.—J. C. Abernethy, residing east of Denison, had a thrilling experience Monday night during a severe storm. "I had just returned from the funeral of a little child," he says, "when the storm came up. The rain came down in torrents, and the lightning was appalling. There are three cedar trees in the front yard near the house. The largest one was struck by lightning, which a ball of fire seemed to dance before the window. The lightning went from the tree to the top of the roof, and ripped up the shingles. It then descended to the ceiling in the front room and tore the clock into pieces. Standing near the clock was a sewing machine. The lightning melted the large wheel and the fluid went through the floor, burning a large hole. Mrs. Sheridan, who was sitting in another room, was prostrated by the shock. It was all done in a second."

Concerning a Defalcation.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—"I do not believe that the members of the Order of Tontu will have to bear the loss of $30,000, which has been embezzled by ex-Treasurer George W. Wright." This is the view expressed by Alexander White, Past President of the Southwestern Lodge. "Much has been said," continued Mr. White, "about the position of the Society. The Tontu is a bona fide organization, and its members are not to be regarded as defalcators. Wright's probable defalcation when he was made Treasurer of Tontu, I may say that we have been assured of prompt payment when the proper time arrives to make it, which is 90 days from the time when they were notified of the defalcation."

President Harrison's Western Trip.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—The careful and elaborate preparations for the reception of President Harrison were based on his arrival at 7:30 p. m. They were all disturbed, however, by the delay of the train, which was two and a half hours late. The National flag was displayed all over that portion of the City where the party was expected to pass, as well as from numerous residences and business houses in other parts of the City. The weather is warm but clear and the programme modified to suit the shortening of time will be carried out. Later on the President arrived. He was given a magnificent reception.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—In the stock market this morning there was a less business than yesterday in the general list and the transactions were concentrated in a few shares. Western Union, Cleveland, Columbus, Chicago & St. Louis, St. Paul, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, preferred and Cotton oil monopolized the dealings. The tone of the market was firm to strong, though Cleveland, Columbus, Chicago & St. Louis and Western Union were marked exceptions, the former losing 1/4 per cent. to 7/8 and the latter 1/2 to 3/4. Cotton oil was the great feature of the market, and it developed marked strength, rising 1/4 to 5/8. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and hardly steady.

The New-York Sun says: "While the construction of torpedo boats goes on apace, and nations like England and France have them by the hundreds, much less has been heard for a long time of improvements in the weapons which these boats are to carry. The great aim has been to secure a higher and higher speed in the little vessels, and this is the point most talked of. But during the present summer attention has been once more directed to the torpedoes. Interesting experiments have been made with the Brennan torpedo, which has been purchased by Great Britain of its inventor, a young Australian. For several years tests of it were conducted at Garrison Point Fort, Sheerness, but the recent ones have been made in the Tordale Bay, Isle of Wight. The Brennan torpedo is essentially a shore weapon, as the motions of a ship in a seaway would snap its wires, or, at least, prevent their methodical use. Two spindles in the torpedo, each having a quantity of wire wound around it, set upon screws working in opposite directions. On the shore are large drums, to which the wires are connected, and upon which they are wound up with great rapidity, unwinding, of course, from the spindles of the torpedo, thereby causing the screws to revolve and the torpedo to move; while by slackening one wire or the other the torpedo is steered to one side or the other. Horizontal rudders are also provided for securing the right depth of immersion. In the summer's experiments the torpedo attacked a hulk 400 feet long about 4,000 feet distant from the station, and towed along by a tug at a rate which, aided by a strong tide, was estimated at 11 knots. The torpedo darted at it at the rate of 20 or 21 knots an hour, but by the time it reached the object the latter was nearly a mile off. The control was perfect, and the torpedo ran for over six miles, a mile just under the surface, a little flag showing its course, and then was put 10 feet below; and when some spectators thought it might have gone astray, the inventor laid it alongside of the vessel and blew it to pieces. The torpedo was charged with 300 pounds of nitro-glycerine, and with the explosion its victim disappeared under water."

The folk-lore of Southern Russia can be partially imagined from a case which came before a Judge of Odessa. A man applied for a writ to compel his daughter to leave the house, because when she saluted her parents she did not bow to them. He said that he would withdraw his application if she would ask pardon and make the regular obeisance. The girl agreed. She asked pardon; but when she bowed the father cried: "Lower. Down with your head!" down below the girl. "She replied, 'I won't bend as low as that, not if I have to leave the house.' The Judge thereupon ordered her to leave, but she gave in finally and bowed her head to the girl.

About two years ago Professor Ronschensch, of the German Theological Seminary, Rochester, returned from abroad with a number of large grubs, or white worms, which he had found in Germany. He made an examination of them at his home, and left several in his garden accidentally. The creatures have multiplied so that they are now a pest in that section of the City. They are found in the trees and shrubbery, and devour everything within their reach that is green. Entomologist say they are to be found nowhere else in this country.

The Swand of Southern India have always been greatly celebrated for their skill as jewelers, but the forms and figures usually made have been of a character that was inadmissible in Western society. A Parsee gentleman, having obtained the appointment of Indian jeweler to the Queen of England, obtained sufficient influence among the Swami to induce them to abandon their old style, and the result was a beautifully wrought casket for Princess Louise, of a workmanship comparatively unknown.

The total original cost of the British warships of all sorts at the last Spithead review, paraded for the inspection of the Emperor, was £18,853,765. Five hundred and sixty-nine heavy guns, irrespective of quick-firers and machine guns, composed the armament.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine Ever Made.

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clear and smooth. Those pimples and blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, Sulfur Bitters.

What makes you tremble so? Your nerves are all out of gear, and need a gentle, soothing tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your excesses have caused. Sulfur Bitters is not a cheap run or poor whiskey drink, to be taken by the glass, like other preparations, which stimulate only to destroy. Why suffer with a headache? Why rave with that terrible Rheumatism? Why lay and toss on that bed of pain, with Rheumatism?

Don't you have failed to receive any benefit from other medicines or doctors, do not despair. Use Sulfur Bitters. They will cure you where others fail. No person can remain long sick who uses Sulfur Bitters.

The dose is simply a teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. Don't wait, get it at once. If you are suffering from Kidney Disease, and wish to live to old age, use Sulfur Bitters. They never fail to cure.

The New-York Sun says: "While the construction of torpedo boats goes on apace, and nations like England and France have them by the hundreds, much less has been heard for a long time of improvements in the weapons which these boats are to carry. The great aim has been to secure a larger and higher speed in the little vessels, and this is the point most talked of. But during the present summer attention has been once more directed to the torpedoes. Interesting experiments have been made with the Brennan torpedo, which has been purchased by Great Britain of its inventor, a young Australian. For several years tests of it were conducted at Garrison Point Fort, Sheerness, but the recent ones have been made in the harbor of the British fleet, and the results have been most successful. The Brennan torpedo is essentially a self-propelled weapon, as the motion of a ship in a sea-way would spin its wires, or, at least, in the event of their methodical use. Two spindles in the torpedo, each having a quantity of wire wound around it, set upon screws working in opposite directions. On the shore are large drums, to which the wires are connected, and upon which they are wound up with great rapidity, unwinding, of course, from the spindles of the torpedo, thereby causing the screws to revolve and the torpedo to move; while by slackening one wire or the other the torpedo is steered to one side or the other. Horizontal rudders are also provided for securing the right depth of immersion. In this summer's experiments the torpedo attacked a wooden hulk 160 feet long, and towed along by a tug at a rate which, aided by a strong tide, was estimated at 14 knots. The torpedo darted at it at the rate of 20 or 21 knots an hour, but by the time it reached the hulk it was nearly a mile off. The control was perfect, and the torpedo ran for over a sixth of a mile just under the surface, a little flag showing its course, and then was put 10 feet below; and when some spindles of the wire had been gone astray, the inventor laid it alongside of the vessel and blew it to pieces. The torpedo was charged with 300 pounds of nitro-glycerine, and with the explosion its victim disappeared under water."

The folk-lore of Southern Russia can be partially imagined from a case which came before a Judge of Odessa. A man applied for a writ to compel his daughter to leave the house, because when she visited her parents she would withdraw his application if she would ask pardon and make the regular obeisance. The girl agreed. She asked pardon; and then, when she bowed, she said, "Lower, down with your head!" down below a griddle. She replied, "I won't bend as low as that, nor if I have to leave the house." The Judge thereupon ordered her to leave, but she gave in finally and bowed her head to the griddle.

About two years ago Professor Rouschbach, of the German Theological Seminary, Rochester, returned from abroad with a number of large grubs, or white worms, which he had found in Germany. He made an examination of them at his home, and left several in his garden accidentally. The creatures have multiplied so that they are now a pest in that section of the City. They are found in the front of the city, and devour everything within their reach that is green. Entomologists say they are to be found nowhere else in this country.

The Swami of Southern India has always been greatly celebrated for their skill as jewelers, but the forms and figures usually made have been of a character that was inadmissible in Western society. A Parsee gentleman, having obtained the appointment of Indian Jeweler to the Queen of England, obtained sufficient influence among the Swamis to induce them to abandon their old style, and the result was a beautifully wrought casket for Princess Louise, of a workmanship comparatively unknown.

The total original cost of the British warship of all sorts at the Spithead review, paraded for the inspection of the Emperor, was £18,837,765. The number of ships present was 73; of torpedo boats, 38. The weight of metal contained in the heavy guns was 8,600 tons. The tonnage was approximately 360,000 tons. Five hundred and sixty-nine heavy guns, irrespective of quick-firers and machine guns, composed the armament.

The latest use of photography is to make a cannon ball take a picture of its own walling. In the arrangements for the review, a camera is to be placed in the forward end of the projectile, and when it is fired directly at the sun the light traces lines upon the plate. From the direction of which it can be told whether the projectile has kept in its position or has wavered to and fro during its flight.

It is said that the land, buildings and entire plant of the State Asylum at Ogdensburg, N. Y., will cost $1,200,000, and that only about $275,000 has been expended. The construction of buildings and improving the grounds. The asylum, when finished, will accommodate 1,500 patients.

CITY HAPPENINGS AND CHAT.

MEN, MATTERS, PROJECTS, STORIES AND GOSSIP BRIEFLY PARAPHRASED.

Notices served on Physicians.—The Views of A Nimrod—Coal Piling Facilities—A Will Incident—A Runaway Downtown—Some Deductions, Etc.

Cornelius VanGaasbeck is the possessor of historical parchments. Several are original deeds and land grants given in the Seventeenth Century. One is a manorial grant or patent of the "Lordship and Manor of Foxhall," given by Governor Thomas Dongan to Captain Thomas Chambers, on October 25, 1686. It is written on two large sheets in a plain hand. Another paper is the will of Captain Thomas Chambers. He married the widow of the Rev. Laurence VanGaasbeck, and entailed his estate to his oldest son on condition that he adopt the name of Chambers and be known as Abram VanGaasbeck Chambers. Later on the Captain broke this entail. The will was formerly on record in the Ulster County Clerk's office, but years ago some one cut the leaves out of the book and carried them away. One of the title deeds is signed by Governor Stuyvesant. It is written in Dutch, and bears the first seal of the Colony. Another is signed by Stuyvesant's wife. In one of the documents there is mention of lands, which gives some clue to the amount of property which Chambers owned. It reads: "Five messuages, five mills, five gardens, 1,000 acres of land, 1,000 acres of meadow, 1,000 acres of pasture, 1,000 acres of wood, 1,000 acres of marsh, 100 acres of land covered with water and common of pasture for all cattle, with the appurtenances in Foxhall Hall." Mr. VanGaasbeck, who is the oldest male representative of the VanGaasbeck family mentioned in these papers in this part of the State, has also a number of parchment deeds, which have come down through his mother's ancestors. His mother was a Hoornebeck. The oldest Hoornebeck resident in America was Warner Hoornebeck, who resided in the town of Rochester. An early grant of land was from Governor Dongan, dated 1686. In its reference is made to that part of the County known as "Mombak-house." One of the deeds was given by the first Trustees of the town of Rochester.

The following notices have been served on physicians here: You are hereby notified that the following sections of the Rules and Regulations and Sanitary Code of Ordinances of the Board of Health of the City of Kingston "shall be strictly enforced: 13. Every physician practicing in said City shall report in writing to the Health Officer any case of cholera, typhoid, small-pox, typhus, ship or yellow fever, or of any contagious and infectious disease, or of recent and dangerous exposure thereto, which shall come under his treatment or observation in said City, immediately after the fact shall have become known to him. 14. Every parent, guardian, physician, or other person having charge of, or in their families, or under their care, any person sick with small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or other contagious disease, or every parent, guardian, physician or other person having charge of, or in their families, or under their care, shall have the same exposed to such contagious disease, shall immediately report the same to the Health Officer of this City. By order of the Board of Health of the City of Kingston. R. L. LUCAS, M. D., Health Officer.

"Men who are good shots at targets are not always successful when hunting in the woods and fields," said an old sportsman today. "There is a difference in shooting at stationary or moving objects. I have seen men who could plump a bull's-eye nearly every time, miss game that would have been an easy shot for a lackwoodman. Take a bird for instance that is flying at the rate of 60 miles an hour. How wide of the mark would a man come who lifted his gun to his shoulder, took aim and fired as he first sighted the bird? A good way? Well, I guess he would. A hunter must figure on those things and plan a little ahead of the bird so that it will fly into the shot as it were. When hunting a man does not always have time to lift his gun to his shoulder. In order to be successful he needs must learn many things besides shooting at a stationary target."

At a recent meeting of the Board of Alms Commissioners Dr. George C. Batten gave an instance showing how the Commissioners are imposed upon. A family of Poles live on Union-street. Dr. Batten knew that the head of the family was drawing money from the Alms Board. During a professional visit to the house he learned that several persons boarded there. He told the man that it was not right for him to ask aid from the Board under the circumstances. The man, with an air of injured innocence, replied: "My gracious, don't you think that the boarders have got to have something to eat?"

A young man named John Lathrop drove a horse attached to a top wagon on Union-avenue last evening. In passing a corner near Flick's place the vehicle upon which he was thrown out, striking on his head. The horse ran on. The wagon collided with a telegraph pole and was wrecked. The horse was caught near Kingston Point. Lathrop received a severe scalp wound on the right side of his head, laying bare the skull, and other injuries.

The members of Hydrant Hose Company, Waterloo, challenge any hose company in the State to run a straightaway race and harness for from $200 to $500 a side. Probably Kingston Hose, No. 2, can accommodate the Waterloo men, and give them a Waterloo.

A man so hard-hearted that he would not let his mule "roil" was observed at Derrenbacher's Corner this morning. "Man to humanity to man," etc. Burns never saw a mule.

UP IN RIP VAN WINKLE'S LAND TO-DAY.

People Still Fleeting to the Mountains.—The Chat and Gossip of the Range.

The warm weather of the past two days has caused a great influx of guests to Rip VanWinkle's land. Trains and steamboats are being taxed to their utmost capacity carrying people in search of the pure ozone to be found in these higher altitudes. At the Union Depot this afternoon the scene was an animated one.

The register of the Hotel Kaaterskill for the last 10 days contains names of many people from the West and South. On Saturday there were only three vacant rooms to offer for the accommodation of travelers. The number of outgoing guests is balanced by a steady stream of new arrivals.

The Catskills are being visited by the most prominent people of the country, and will soon take the laurels from Sandoga as regards entertaining the most aristocratic and refined people for the greater portion of the year.

A Boston young lady who is summing in the Catskills says that a trout taken from a stream in that picturesque region is like John Clarkson, Boston's boss ball tosser, in one respect—it is full of beautiful curves.

The season at Overlook Mountain House has been the most successful in several years. Beside the regular guests the place has been thronged with excursionists from other resorts in the range.

The times when the "blazer" and the mail bag come into juxtaposition in the Catskill range have been few and far between. The farmers have corralled their bulls effectively.

Eight hundred was the largest number of passengers carried to the Catskills on a regular train of the Ulster & Delaware Railroad this season.

The most favorable season to visit the Catskills is yet to come—when the autumn tints begin to appear on the foliage.

The outlook for the rest of the month of August and the first half of September in the Catskills is most favorable.

Never were finer toilets displayed by the ladies than now.

There are at present 90,000 people at the various resorts.

FRUIT ALONG THE HUDSON VALLEY.

Grapes, Pears and Peaches Now Being Sent to Market.—Some Estimates.

Champion and other early varieties of grapes are ripe along the Valley of the Hudson, and the first shipments are now being made to New-York City, Philadelphia, Boston and intermediate markets. As was predicted weeks ago in THE FREEMAN, the crop is much larger than pessimistic growers and interested middlemen would have the public believe. In the aggregate the yield of the early varieties exceeds 75 per cent. of a full harvest. The great staple, however, of the grape product is the Concord, the acreage of which has been increased enormously during the past few years. There is no doubt that the Concord fruit has been injured badly by mildew and rot in localities, particularly in Ulster County, but the havoc wrought is by no means so large as has been stated. From reports received to-day it can safely be said that in the entire fruit belt the crop will exceed 60 per cent. of the average yield.

This estimate is under rather than above the mark, and the Concord vine is well along in bearing for the first time this fall, and though the bunches in instances may not be as symmetrically formed as in previous seasons, there will be succulent Concordis and to spare. One result of the shortage will be that less wine will be manufactured than was anticipated would be the case in June last. The peaches now being sent to New-York from along the Hudson River should not be taken as a criterion of the fruit that will follow later on. It is in growing late peaches that horticulturists between Cornwall and Catskill excel. The soil and climate seem to be peculiarly adapted for the production of October and November fruit, which is large in size, richly-colored, juicy to a degree and has a fineness of fiber unexcelled.

The Bartlett pears now being sent to market are generally in good condition. The pears that will be sent during the course of the next two weeks will be better. Generally speaking apples don't amount to much, and the yield is about half of what was expected.

What Isaac Hirsch Says.

Isaac Hirsch, President of the Congregation Anshe Chesed, made the following statement to-day: "The Congregation Anshe Chesed has not consolidated with the Congregation Emanuel in making one church body to be called the Congregation Emanuel. Because a few members may have succeeded it does not go that the whole church has. If the members of the two congregations had been brought together, as was suggested, instead of a limited number, the consolidation might have been effected amicably. I know that it has been given out that the two forces have joined issue, but there will be services at the Synagogue Anshe Chesed as usual, a Rabbi having been engaged for that purpose. No one but Almighty God can break up the Congregation Anshe Chesed."

The Mortuary Record Hereabout.

Henry S. VanDemak died on August 4 at Mount Vernon, N. Y. He was born in Marblehead, forty years ago he left Ulster County for New-York City. His business was that of a real estate broker. Mr. VanDemak was a Methodist. In politics he was a Republican and never swerved from his faith.
